Farewell morning tea for Professor Peter Hersey

May 2012

Colleagues and friends farewelled Professor Peter Hersey at a morning tea on Monday 28 May at Calvary Mater Newcastle. Professor Hersey is a prominent national health identity known for his significant work in melanoma research.

Professor Hersey has taken up a research position in Sydney after 28 years at the Mater. We take this opportunity to wish Peter all the best for his future and for his contribution to continuing important research into melanoma Australia wide.

Professor Hersey paid tribute to all of his colleagues for their work and passion for the unit.
