Professor John Forbes AM receives breast cancer research grant

December 2013

Professor John Forbes AM was one of seven Australian and New Zealand Breast Cancer Trials Group (ANZBCTG) researchers recently awarded a very significant $2,182,280 from the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) for breast cancer research. The grant will help fund a new breast cancer clinical trial, ELIMINATE, "studying if combining chemotherapy with oestrogen lowering treatment before surgery will be more effective in shrinking the cancer, which may provide the opportunity for breast conserving surgery for more women."
